Hi Schattenkatze,

Thank you for your aide!

I am honestly not certain exactly on which year would be ideal, as I am looking for a time when the denizens of the former Shadowlands are still suffering under the rule of the heptarchs. I read that the neighboring cities of Warunk, Beilunk, & Praios send forces in to restore order to the Shadowlands, however I'm not sure of their success or actual influence in the region. Do they punish the mass population for submitting and worshipping the demonlords? Are there heptarch armies defending against the ones trying to restore order? Have the peoples of the Shadowlands gone mad?

Is Transysilia the region within the shadowlands, or is it a city? Where is the city of Agrimoth and Oldtoll? What is Tobimoria? Are there any detailed maps of the region?

These are things that are mentioned in the Almanac as important, however they don't seem to go into great detail. I'm not expecting anyone to know all of this, but if anyone has any insight at all that could assist me I would appreciate it!

Also, you mentioned that the heptarchs are of different colour. I assume that you speak figuratively as in they are unlike the commonfolk of the Middenrealm?

And is there a guide anywhere for creating a lizardfolk character in 5th edition? Any information in German I can translate through Google, so do not feel as if that would prove an issue for me!

Once again I thank you and anyone who can assist me!
